INDEPENDENCE

Independence is a matter of extreme importance to the child and all efforts of growth are put forth to acquire this. In order to grow and develop, the child must be able to function by himself. This will set a pattern for good work habits, a sense of responsibility and will help children learn, think and discover for themselves. We as teachers and parents can support the effort of independence by giving children the practical life skills, so as to further a child's independence and never forget that doing more for the child than they need can hinder their growth towards independence.

A MONTESSORI EDUCATION

The goal of early childhood education is to cultivate your child's own natural desire to learn. The Montessori classroom, with its prepared activities and trained adults, is structured to promote this natural process of human development. The Montessori preschool classroom provides opportunities to move, touch, manipulate, and explore. It gives children the freedom to choose their own activities without unnecessary interference from an adult. In this environment, children learn to work independently, based on their own activities, building concentration and self-discipline. The goal of a Montessori education is not to develop all children to be high achievers but to develop children into becoming the best version of themselves.

30. Now that you have chosen Sterling Montessori as your school of choice for your child's education, please share with us your vision for your child's experience in a Montessori classroom.

31. Is there anything else we should know about your child?
